Balance stones

Why not help your child find lots of different sizes stones, either in the garden or whilst out walking that are suitable for building with. Start with a good base stone and see how many stones you and your child can balance on top of each other. You'll need to experiment and select the stones carefully to keep the towers from collapsing. You could also count how many stones you have in the tower.

Friday

This week join Morag with her music bag. Why not join in with the song and have a go at the Makaton signs.
