

This Weeks 'What's Happening'

Bradford Science Festival -A life-size killer whale, LEGO challenges, pumpkin trails and spectacular light and sound displays—Bradford Science Festival is back! This year's festival takes place during October half term (23–31 October 2021) with events at the National Science and Media Museum and across the city. To find out more visit https://www.scienceandmediamuseum.org.uk/whats-on/bradford-science-festival?utm\_medium=email&utm\_source=govdelivery

Last week in red room the children have been interested in making marks with paint and leaves and at the painting easel. To help develop the children's fine motor skills, this week we will be adding a shallow tray of sand and coloured rice to the outdoor area for the children to explore using different sized paintbrushes. Why not try using flour if you don't have sand at home and encourage your child to get creative? Visit <https://hungrylittleminds.campaign.gov.uk/#12> and look under the 'get creative' section for more ideas on how to encourage your child to make marks.

Friday
15th October

In green room the children have been interested in fastening and joining resources together and taking them apart using paper, hole punches, treasury tags and split pins. We will extend this disconnecting or connecting schema, this week in blue, green and yellow rooms, by introducing card and paper clips. We will also add the train set to the small world area so that they can continue their interest in linking items together. To find out more about disconnecting and connecting schema activities visit:-
