

Our visit to the Post Office and Keighley Cenotaph September 2022

After hearing the sad news about the passing of Queen Elizabeth, we decided to make a card to send to her family. We drew some lovely pictures of the Queen which we then stuck to a large piece of card.

First we walked to Asda to buy some flowers for the Queen to lay in her memory at Keighley Cenotaph. The children chose a lovely bouquet of flowers.

We discussed how we needed some money to pay for the flowers. Cassie showed the children a £20 note and we noticed that the Queen was on the money. We then made our way to the tills to pay and some children helped to put the money in the till.

Here we are at the Post Office ready to send our card to our new King at Buckingham Palace in London.

We went inside the post office and gave our card to the man who put a big stamp on the envelope. We watched the postal worker put the card into the post bag ready for the postman to collect.

We walked to Keighley Cenotaph and looked at the flowers and gifts other people had left for Queen Elizabeth. We also talked about how the cenotaph is a special place to remember people.

Here we are laying our flowers.

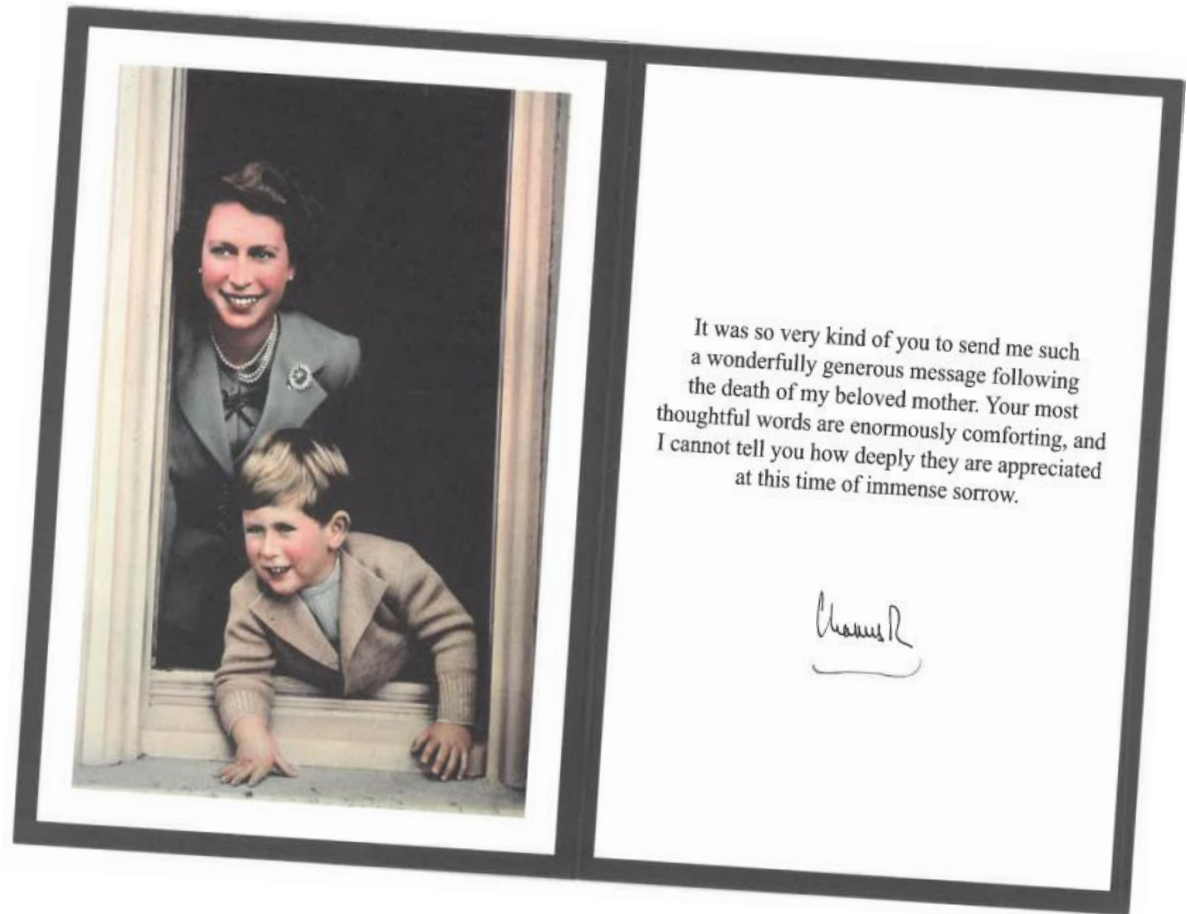

Everyone sang 'Twinkle, Twinkle, Little Star' for the Queen as we thought she would like that song. Afterwards we then made our way back to nursery.

In November we were so surprised to receive a reply from King Charles to say thank you for our cards.
