

This Weeks 'What's Happening'

Those parents/carers of children that will be leaving us in July (because their child is the correct age to move onto school in September), will have received details last week of their child's primary school allocation. For further information on school admissions and appeals please visit the link below.

This week

Last week in yellow, green and blue rooms, after noticing that the playdough had gone sticky, the children wanted to make a new batch and were very interested in the process involved. This week the children will have the opportunity to measure, mix and work together to make the playdough in a morning. Making homemade playdough is a fun way for your child to explore their creativity and learn new words. To find out more why not visit
