This week

In red and purple rooms as well as learning balls skills and developing directional language the children have then used this language in their construction play. Therefore, this week we will focus on developing the children's building skills using comparative mathematical language for size and weight e.g. big, bigger, biggest, small, smaller smallest. Try building towers against the clock and see which is the tallest. Visit

This week

#26 Splish, Splash, Splosh

In yellow, green and blue rooms last week due to the warm weather the children have had lots of opportunities to play with water such as using spray bottles to keep cool and playing in the water tray, filling and emptying containers. This week the children will deepen their knowledge by exploring moving water with resources such as pipes, tubes and hose pipes. To find out more see 50 Things To Do Before You're 5 #26 Splish, Splash, Splosh.

Thursday
29th June

Happy Eid to all our children, staff and families celebrating Eid today at home. As we will have less staff in school today our non-Muslim staff and children attending may be moving classes just for this day so that we can ensure statutory ratios and children's health, safety and support. Breakfast and after school club will also be closed just for today.

Watch green room staff read their core story of We All Went on a Safari a counting journey through Tanzania by Laurie Krebs.
